Battery Performance

Arizer Batteries meet rigorous quality standards. With normal use they will last for hundreds of charge cycles before losing any capacity. Dropping the battery or the unit can result in battery damage that may limit / reduce the battery capacity quickly, so it is important to handle your unit carefully.

Battery Charge

Depending on the temperature setting and general usage patterns the Solo II battery will typically last for 3 hours of use per charge. The battery will take 3 hours to fully charge, or longer if you use it while charging.

Use While Charging

If your battery is running low, with the Solo II you don't have to wait for the battery to fully charge before you can use it. Just partially charge the battery (5-10 minutes) and then you can set the temperature and use the Solo II while the battery continues charging. Note: The Solo II will not operate if the battery is completely drained.

Battery Conservation

The Solo II and Solo II Chargers have built-in protections to prevent the battery from being overcharged or drained too low. To conserve battery life, use the Solo II in a temperature-controlled environment and use lower temperature settings. When outdoors, stay sheltered from the elements and avoid using in extremely cold temperatures. Charge the battery as necessary. Do not store the Solo II with the battery fully charged or fully drained for longer than one month (store with partial charge).

The Solo II is compact, lightweight, and completely portable, conveniently fitting in the palm of your hand, pocket, or purse.
